Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to apply for the position of Software Development Engineer at AMD. I believe that my previous experience in professional Software Development makes me an ideal candidate for this position, and I'd love the opportunity to be a part of your team.

Over the past summer and continuing throughout the school year I have had the opportunity to be a full stack web developer for the Ontario Ministry of Health. In this position I developed a web application for use within the ministry, working alongside a team of other interns and full-time employees. Over that time, I have been able to improve my skills both as a programmer and as a teammate. Beyond work, I have continued to develop applications on my own time both for some fun, and to challenge myself to try different things. I always love the opportunity to challenge myself by building larger and larger projects where I force myself to try new things. I also enjoy working within a team of passionate developers like myself, as I have had the privilege of doing at the Ministry of Health, and as I will have in this position at AMD.

I believe that this position would provide me with the perfect mix of familiarity and challenge, where my previous experience gives me a great starting point in developing within a team, but I would still be able to learn and grow plenty as a member of your team. I would love to meet with you to further discuss how my previous experience and personality make me a great fit for this position.

Sincerely,

Julien Bertazzo Lambert
