Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to apply for the position of Software Engineer at Zynga. I believe that my previous experience in professional Software Development makes me an ideal candidate for this position, and I'd love the opportunity to be a part of your team.

Over the past summer and continuing throughout the school year I have had the opportunity to be a full stack web developer for the Ontario Ministry of Health. In this position I developed a web application for use within the ministry, working alongside a team of other interns and full-time employees. Over that time, I have been able to improve my skills both as a programmer and as a teammate. Working in a professional setting with a team of developers has given me great experience in effective collaboration and software development in general. Beyond work, I have continued to develop full stack web applications on my own time both for some fun, and to challenge myself to try different things. I have plenty of experience in technologies such as React, Python, Node.js, and Java, and I am always eager to learn more.

I believe that this position would provide me with the perfect mix of familiarity and challenge, where my previous experience gives me a great starting point, but I would still be able to learn plenty as a member of your team. I would love to meet with you to further discuss how my previous experience and personality make me a great fit for this position.

Sincerely,

Julien Bertazzo Lambert
